

WADDES DON CHURCH OF ENGLAND SCHOOL

ANTI-BULLYING POLICY 2017-2018

STATUS OF POLICY:	School Policy
BASED ON LA PROCEDURE DATED:	-
COMMITTEE RESPONSIBLE:	Curriculum and Student Wellbeing
GOVERNING BODY APPROVAL:	CSWB – 01.02.17 / FGB 15.03.17
REVIEW DATE:	January 2019

1. Introduction:

Our ethos is rooted and grounded in traditional Christian values, which foster dignity and respect for all and compassion and sensitivity towards others. We strive to create a safe and happy environment, believing that all bullying is unacceptable, and should not be tolerated, whether at home, at school, at work, in the local community or when social networking.

We strongly believe that school should provide a safe, caring and happy place for young people to learn and for adults to work. We want to foster an attitude of responsible behaviour amongst all our students at all times and to promote safety, both on the premises and out of school hours.

2. Principles:

- Pupils have a right to learn, free from intimidation and fear
- The needs of the victim are paramount
- We will not tolerate bullying behaviour
- Bullied pupils will be listened to
- Reported incidents will be taken seriously and thoroughly investigated

- This policy should be read in conjunction with the Behaviour Policy, which is available on the school website and can be requested from the school office
- The policy is supported by our Student-Friendly Anti-Bullying Policy
- The following Government advice may also be of interest:

3. Definitions of Student Bullying:

Bullying is unwanted, harmful behaviour (physical and/or emotional) among school-aged children that involves a real or perceived power imbalance. The behaviour is repeated, or has the potential to be repeated, over time. Bullying can be deliberate or unintentional, on the part of the bully. It may be perpetrated by individuals or by groups of pupils.

Bullying differs from ‘friendship fall-out’, or other aggressive behaviour (usually one-off incidents).

For vulnerable students (SEN, LAC) in the school community, who may experience bullying, the repetition may be the repeat of the act by several individuals or groups of people. In these examples, victims may not be aware of being bullied*

Bullying can be:

Emotional: Hurting people’s feelings, leaving people out, making threats, spreading rumours

Physical: Punching, kicking, spitting, hitting or pushing

Verbal: Teasing, name calling, use of derogatory language (including racist and homophobic language)

Written: Writing letters, notes, graffiti

Cyber: Saying unkind and threatening things by text, e-mail and on the internet (see Appendix 1)

4. Roles and Responsibilities

The Governing Body:

- Regularly review the Behaviour and the Anti-Bullying Policies

- Bring to the Head teacher's attention further measures as they consider necessary, and offer guidance, as they consider appropriate, to promote safeguarding and the welfare of students

The Headteacher and Assistant Headteacher (with responsibility for Behaviour):

- Overall responsibility for the policy and its implementation
- Record and analyse cases of bullying to see whether patterns emerge from the nature of the bullying or the identity of the perpetrators

All staff:

- Share a responsibility for ensuring that the policy and procedures are followed, and consistently and fairly applied
- Foster, in our pupils, self-esteem, self-respect and respect for others
- Demonstrate by example the high standards of personal and social behaviour we expect of our pupils
- Be alert to signs of distress and other possible indications of bullying
- Listen to children who have been bullied, take what they say seriously and act to support and protect them
- Report suspected cases of bullying to the relevant Head of Year, or Sam Jones/James Sturla
- Follow up any complaint by a parent about bullying, and report back promptly and fully on the action which has been taken
- Deal with observed instances of bullying promptly and effectively
- Work together to combat and, hopefully in time, to eradicate bullying

Parents and Carers

We ask our parents to support their children and the school by:

- Working in partnership with the school in order that high standards of behaviour are maintained both in and out of school
- Watching for signs of distress or unusual behaviour in their children, which might be evidence of bullying (see 'Signs and Symptoms' below)
- Advising their children to report any bullying and explain the implications of allowing the bullying to continue unchecked, for themselves and for other pupils
- Advising their children not to retaliate violently to any forms of bullying
- Being sympathetic and supportive towards their children, and reassuring them that appropriate action will be taken
- Co-operating with the school, if their children are accused of bullying, to try to ascertain the truth. And point out the implications of bullying, both for the children who are bullied and for the bullies themselves.

Students:

We expect our students to:

- Take full responsibility for their own behaviour
- Read and follow the advice included in the 'Student Friendly Bullying Policy'
- Ensure that they are considerate towards one another and respectful of each other's differences
- Refrain from becoming involved in any kind of bullying, even at the risk of incurring temporary unpopularity
- Intervene to protect the pupil who is being bullied, unless it is unsafe to do so
- Report to a member of staff any witnessed or suspected instances of bullying, to dispel any climate of secrecy and help to prevent further instances

Anyone who becomes the target of bullies should:

- Not suffer in silence, but have the courage to speak out, to put an end to their own suffering and that of other potential targets

5. Signs and Symptoms of Bullying:

It can be hard for adults, including parents, to know whether or not a child is being bullied. A child might not tell anyone because they are scared the bullying will get worse. They might think that they deserve to be bullied, or that it is their fault.

You can't always see the signs of bullying. And no one sign indicates for certain that a child's being bullied. But you should look out for:

- belongings getting "lost" or damaged
- physical injuries such as unexplained bruises
- being afraid to go to school, being mysteriously 'ill' each morning, or skipping school
- not doing as well at school
- asking for, or stealing, money (to give to a bully)
- being nervous, losing confidence, or becoming distressed and withdrawn
- problems with eating or sleeping
- bullying others

6. Cyberbullying:

Cyberbullying is becoming increasingly common. Unlike other types of bullying it can happen anytime anywhere – a child can be bullied when you might think they are safe, e.g. when they are alone in their bedroom. It can feel as if there is no escape.

The Anti-Bullying Alliance defines cyberbullying as 'when a person or group of people uses things like the internet and mobile phones to threaten, tease or upset someone else'.

Children may know who's bullying them online or they may be targeted by someone using a fake or anonymous account.

Cyberbullying includes:

- sending threatening or abusive text messages
- homophobia, racism or sexism
- making silent, hoax or abusive calls
- creating and sharing embarrassing images or videos. This includes 'sexting' – for details please see section 9.4 of the Behaviour Policy
- 'trolling' - the sending of menacing or upsetting messages on social networks, chat rooms or online games
- excluding children from online games, activities or friendship groups
- setting up hate sites or groups about a particular child
- encouraging young people to self-harm
- voting for or against someone in an abusive poll
- creating fake accounts, hijacking or stealing online identities to embarrass a young person or cause trouble using their name
- sending explicit messages, also known as sexting
- pressuring children into sending sexual images or engaging in sexual conversations.

All bullying issues, whatever their nature, will be treated with equal importance and the response will be based upon the guidelines in the policy.

7. Signs and Symptoms of Cyberbullying:

A student being bullied may not know that help is available or may feel too embarrassed to speak up. With the amount of time young people are spending on the internet or on their phones, it is important to be able to spot the signs of bullying. These may include:

- becoming shy or withdrawn
- refusing to go to school, youth club or any other activity
- doing less well at their schoolwork
- changes in their mood – becoming depressed, angry, unhappy
- changes in their behaviour, for example wetting the bed
- showing aggression at home with siblings and other family
- feeling anxious
- changes in sleeping and eating habits
- changes in friendships/friendship groups
- getting more headaches, stomach aches and other minor illnesses
- changes in behaviour/routines
- suddenly stopping using technology or particular sites/apps/games
- being nervous or jumpy around technology, for example, when a mobile receives a message
- spending excessive amounts of time on devices connected to the internet
- hiding internet usage, using internet connected devices secretly, deliberately keeping out of sight when connected online
- displaying anxiety when kept away from devices connected to the internet.

The biggest red flag for cyberbullying is a withdrawal from technology. If you notice a sudden change in computer or phone usage, talk to the child. They may be being cyberbullied.

8. Bullying Outside School Premises

According to DfE guidance October 2014 teachers have the power to discipline pupils for misbehaving outside the school premises “to such an extent as is reasonable”. This can relate to any bullying incidents occurring anywhere off the school premises, such as on school or public transport, outside the local shops, or in a town or village centre.

Where bullying outside school is reported and the behaviour has a significant impact on the safety and well-being of students in school it will be investigated, in conjunction with parents/carers and other outside agencies, and acted on. The headteacher will consider whether it is appropriate to notify the police or social services in their local authority of the action taken against a student. If the misbehaviour is criminal or poses a serious threat to a member of the public, the police will always be informed.

9. Reporting Bullying

Students, parents and staff are encouraged to report all forms of bullying, whether carried out by another student or by an adult. The hope is that by reporting the problem in the first instance, this will become the first step in empowering the victim to overcome the bullying through the defined stages that will then be put into action. Whenever a student experiences bullying, it should be reported, whether by the victim, friends of the victim, bystanders or via parents, who should contact the school. In cases where there may be concerns about what they are reporting, the school will ensure that each reported case will be treated with great sensitivity and the student's name will remain anonymous (with the exception of any safeguarding issues raised).

Information can be reported to any member of staff, a form tutor, a Head of Year or a member of the Leadership Management Team. All staff should immediately secure the safety of the young person before following the school's procedures.

10. Preventative Measures

Waddesdon School's response to bullying does not start at the point at which a child has been bullied. The school attempts to develop a more sophisticated approach, in which school staff proactively gather intelligence about issues between pupils which might provoke conflict and develop strategies to prevent bullying occurring in the first place.

At Waddesdon we have created an ethos of good behaviour where pupils treat one another and the school staff with dignity and respect because they know that this is the right way to behave.

Waddesdon School adopts a three stage approach to dealing with bullying:

Stage 1: Creating a safe learning environment and anti-bullying culture

The first stage is on-going, and involves measures designed to encourage pupils to behave positively towards one another, thereby discouraging bullying.

These measures include:

- Signing an Anti-Bullying statement at the transition stage
- School Council designing an Anti-Bullying Charter and ensuring that all tutor groups are able to review the charter before a final copy is distributed
- Safer Internet user contract Year 7 and Year 12 (transition)
- Anti -Bullying Campaigns throughout the year – Displays
- Student supervision throughout the school day and during break and lunch times
- Providing safe places for vulnerable pupils to go at break times and lunchtimes e.g. Library/ Enrichment
- Supervision of corridors between lessons
- Opportunities for students to discuss bullying issues in tutor time
- Extended tutor time to talk to small groups
- Assemblies
 - Openly discuss differences between people that could motivate bullying, such as religion, ethnicity, disability, gender or sexuality
 - Regular reminders of the school policy and the sanctions available
- Sixth Form prefects/ mediators
- CP lessons Year 7 (Bullying), Year 8 (crime and punishment) Year 9 (Safety and Well- being)
- Safer internet use and health and safety embedded in ICT curriculum
- Parent Information Evenings e.g. Internet Safety
- Letters to parents (e.g. about sexting)

Stage 2: If bullying occurs:

The Restorative Approach

This approach encourages the reporting of incidents by reducing the victims' anxieties about repercussions and educates the perpetrators, by increasing their understanding of the difficulties caused by bullying, and encouraging perpetrators to take responsibility for their actions. It may be appropriate in some cases of bullying to apply the restorative approach, alongside other approaches.

It may be appropriate to monitor the situation in the first instance, and work closely with parents and the victim to discuss if any action should be taken. It may be appropriate to hold a Restorative Approach meeting with all those involved. This might mean asking pupils, staff and parents to share their views within a meeting with a Mediator (Sixth form or staff) who would ensure that all participants were able to say how they had been affected by the bullying behaviour and what needed to change. As a way forward, if thought appropriate and agreed upon, a contract would be written between the pupils.

There would then be a series of meetings to ensure that the contract was working and that problems had not re-emerged.

Stage 3: If those involved in bullying do not respond to the Restorative Approach

If those involved do not keep to the agreements made at Restorative Approach meetings, or repeat bullying behaviour towards other individuals occurs, the matter will be treated as defiance of the school's authority. The school would then use a range of sanctions, including loss of break time/lunchtime, after school detentions, internal exclusion or, in extreme cases, fixed term or permanent exclusion.

Based upon legislation in the Children Act (1989), in serious cases, it may also be appropriate to consider the bullying as a child protection concern if 'there is reasonable cause to suspect that a child is suffering, or is likely to suffer, significant harm'. Where this is the case, the school must report their concerns to the Local Authority's safeguarding services and may draw on external professionals to support the victim or to tackle issues which have contributed to a child becoming a perpetrator of bullying.

The school may report a bullying issue to the police, particularly if staff feel that the nature of the bullying contravenes the law and other measures have been unsuccessful in preventing its recurrence.

11. Recording Bullying and Evaluating the Policy

When bullying of a student has been reported and is at stage 3 and those students involved have not responded to the Restorative Approach (stage 2), statements will be taken from all relevant parties and stored on file. When it is believed that bullying has occurred, the member of staff will record the type of bullying and the names of the victim(s) and perpetrator(s) on the School Information Management system (SIMS) as well as other communication with students and parents such as a meeting or telephone call.

The measures taken and sanctions imposed will be recorded and monitored and used to inform form tutors and staff of any trends or patterns, or to indicate which measures are most successful in ensuring that further bullying is prevented.

This anti-bullying policy will be reviewed and updated biennially.

12. Making a Complaint

If a parent is not satisfied with the way a bullying issue has been addressed, the appropriate Head of Year should be contacted to discuss the matter.

However, if the appropriate Head of Year has already become involved, but the parent is still dissatisfied, then Mr Jones or Mr Sturla, the Assistant Headteachers, should be contacted.
